State Department Gets Reports Showing Trouble Did Not Grow Out of Preconceived Plan.

A solution of the present Japanes trouble arising out of the assault by bath house in San Francisco, severa weeks ago, seems to have been found. I s understood here that the aggrieve Japanese subjects will bring actions their individual capacities, for damages against the city of San Francisco. This they can do, under the law of California in the State courts, and if it is shown that they have suffered pecuniary losses or sustained other injuries, they will be able to recover from the municipality. The Japanese authorities, according to information received here, will recommend such a course, and this, if followed, it is believed, will take the matter out of the hands of the State Department, and out of international contro
